Ken Harms and Something Worth Doing In Concert with Aaron Weiss and Zack Masoud

Friday, July 19 at 7:00 pm

Library Lawn* (Rain location Community Room)

Bring lawn chairs and wear your coolest tie-dyed t-shirt!
Family friendly - free popcorn

Ken Harms came to upstate New York in 1965 to attend SUNY Buffalo. He then worked in special education in Syracuse, followed by 10 years with Head Start. He raised four children while still performing as a professional musician in a variety of settings.

The two paths of education and music merged about 25 years ago with the start of a new career as a guitar teacher. This is how Ken met his fellow band members Aaron Weiss and Zack Masoud, classmates of his youngest daughter, when they took music lessons. They now work around CNY as a trio specializing in original music.
